ABOUT MaaS SCOTLAND

MaaS Scotland was created in March 2017 to be the driving force for Mobility as a Service (MaaS) activities in Scotland, establishing a formal network for the vibrant MaaS eco-system in Scotland, and facilitating initiatives that will deliver the benefits of this transformational opportunity to Scotland. Approaching 5 years of operation, our membership has grown to over 70 public and private sector organisations making us one of the largest MaaS networks in Europe.

The group was central to the creation of the Scottish Government's MaaS Investment Fund and has been supporting Transport Scotland to deliver a national programme of 5 pilots exploring the delivery of MaaS across our rural and urban communities.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The MaaS Scotland Annual Conference and Dinner brings together representatives from across Scotland, the UK and Europe to discuss recent developments and projects in the area of Mobility as a Service. Now in its sixth year, the event attracts over 150 delegates from across the MaaS supply chain, from technology providers and systems integrators to transport operators and regional and national transport authorities.

This year's conference comes at a time of increasing focus on the future decarbonisation of transport and we will discuss the role of MaaS in realising our net zero ambitions. As well as providing an opportunity to hear more about MaaS deployments across Scotland and further afield, the conference will also explore some of the key challenges and enablers of MaaS, discussing areas such as behavioural change, governance, business models and success measurement.

At the end of the day's proceedings we invite attendees to join us for an evening drinks reception and dinner. This will be an opportunity to continue discussions from throughout the day, developing ideas and creating new contacts in a more casual environment.
